

Featured Producer: Broc Cellars

Broc Cellars fits hardly anybody's idea of a California winery. You won't see any cellars, for one thing, or anything remotely pastoral, like a vineyard. The cellars are a warehouse, on a corner in an industrial district here in Berkeley. Across one street is a cement plant. Across another is a motorcycle-repair shop. The melody of passing freight trains plays every once in a while.

Broc is a tiny operation. The proprietor, Chris Brockway, works with one assistant, Sam Baron, and gets occasional help from his girlfriend, Bridget Leary (when she is not busy buying Broc for her mother's wine bar, Four2Nine, in Point Richmond).

But even on this small scale, Broc offers a glimpse into one possible future for the California wine industry, a future that depends on vision, hustle and entrepreneurship rather than, as in Napa Valley, inheritance or making a fortune in another business to finance wine ventures. It's a vision that may seem cutting edge but in fact is a throwback to California's past, both stylistically in terms of Broc's wines and financially, in terms of its shoestring budget.

Broc focuses on minimal intervention wines (AKA "Natural") sourced from organically farmed vineyards, utilizing spontaneous fermentations, and minimal use of oak or sulfur.

2016 Love Red BLEND Green Valley, Solano County 65

Offering fun, vibrant flavors of mixed berries, plum, dried lavender and pan fond, this is a tremendously well-crafted wine - made without any acid adjustments, and checking in at an exceptionally drinkable 12.5% alcohol. A blend of 50% Carignan, 36% Valdiguie, 8% Syrah and 6% Cabernet Sauvignon, it was sourced from 70 year old vines across two vineyard sites in the Solano County/ Green Valley AVA.

2018 Amore Rosso SANGIOVESE Mendocino County 70

It's rare to find a worthy California example of Sangiovese, but here's one for sure. Coming from a steep, rocky vineyard in Mendocino, this upfront red is fun, fruity, and ripe, with pure, almost jammy fruit. There's a soft creamy vanilla texture on the palate with a long and spicy finish.

2018 Wirth ZINFANDEL Green Valley, Solano County 70

This is a lovely restrained and bright rendition of Zinfandel. All about bright and crunchy dark red fruits and some floral notes. It reminds us of cool climate Shiraz without the pepper. Similar weight. It is a wine that reveals more as it breathes, more nuance, more depth, all the while retaining freshness and vitality.
